

The Distillery District

Do you want to delve into contemporary Canadian and international arts and culture? Check out the Distillery District, which is one of the trendiest areas in downtown Toronto. This pedestrian-only cultural district contains the largest and best preserved collection of Victorian industrial architecture in North America, with more than 40 gorgeous heritage buildings that now house numerous galleries, theatres, cafés, boutiques, and art studios and workshops.

Take a leisurely stroll along the brick roads and marvel at the captivating outdoor sculptures that will spark your imagination. If you want to escape the summer heat, go indoors and immerse yourself in the art galleries. Be prepared to be enthralled by the masterpieces of different artistic disciplines. Visit the unique shops where many one-of-a-kind items from local designers are sold. You can also enjoy an inspirational performance at the Young Centre for the Performing Arts.

A trip to the Distillery District would not be complete without visiting the chocolate factory. Indulge yourself in the aroma of chocolate while watching the art of chocolate-making through large glass windows. A freshly churned gelato from the chocolate lab would be a perfect summer treat to end a day of exploring and learning in this enchanting district.
